

Writing Studio

The Writing Studio is a free service available to all UMKC students. Writing Studio consultants can assist you at any point of the writing process, including brainstorming topics, discussing different approaches and mapping out a research strategy. Once you have written a draft, a consultant can help you determine if your ideas need further development and whether your organizational plan is working. Through this process, the Writing Studio can help you learn the skills you need to produce a clean, reader-friendly final draft. Our consultants do not copy edit or proofread your drafts, but they can help you become a more effective editor of your own writing. Drop-ins are welcome but we recommend that you schedule an appointment on the Writing Studio website \(www.umkc.edu/asm/writing-studio\).