How to create a course blog with Campus Pack

(Audience: Instructors)

1) Log in to your Blackboard course site and access one of your content areas. In this example, Course Content.

2) Hover over the tools button and select Campus Pack Blog.
3) Create a title and a description (optional) of the blog.

```
Title
Campus Pack Blog Demo
This will be used to generate the URL; e.g. http://umkc.campuspack.net/Groups/My_First_Course_4/My_Content

Description
A demonstration of the Campus Pack Blog
This description will typically be displayed alongside the title.
```

4) The deployment type determines who has a copy of the blog.

   Class Copy: One copy for the entire class which each student can access.
   Group: One copy for each group in the class which students within the group can access.
   Individual: One copy for each student in the class which only that individual student can access.

```
Deployment
Class Copy
Group
Individual
```

5) You can create a grade book entry if you would like to grade students on their participation in the blog.

   Note: This option is only available while creating the blog. If a Grade Book Entry is not created then any grading will have to be done manually in the Blackboard Grade Center.

```
Create Grade Book Entry

Entry Name
Blog Participation
Points Possible
5
Display Grades to Students
```

6) Click Add to create the blog.