

Nancy Brady

Portrayed on the right side of the mural, wearing a blue dress and holding what appears to be an ice cream cone

Born in 1923, Nancy Brady was a young student at UKC when Quintanilla painted the murals. Originally from Kansas City, she was active in the campus's Sigma Beta sorority and met her husband, William E. McGugin while attending the university. She was an active member in her community, especially in her church, while continuing to live in Kansas City. She passed away in 2009.
